COALITION

DATE: JUNE 7, 2021

SUBJECT: ARLINGTON MAYOR ANDS CITY COUNCIL FINAL
ELECTION RESULTS ARE IN. YOU SHOULD ALL BE PROUD!

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

The final results of the runoff elections for the mayor's race and one city council position have been announced. You should all be very proud!

You will recall that on two occasions prior to the original election date of May 1, 2021, we advised you of those candidates who had pledged to support and defend our crucial short-term rental ordinances. It should not go unnoticed in future city elections that only the candidates who made this key pledge to us won their races. In fact, no candidate who failed to make this commitment even made it to the runoffs.

This election success proves that citizens have great power when they band together for their common good and are active, as you have been, in supporting with their votes only those candidates who pledge to advance and defend the interests of voters. So, hats off to all of you.

Of course, we extend our congratulations to Jim Ross, the winner of the mayoral runoff race, and to the winners of the three city council races, that is, Nikki Hunter, who won her runoff on June 5, and Barbara Wesley-Odom and Andrew Piel, both of whom won outright on May 1. We look forward to working with them and the other city council members to assure Arlington is the best place to live and remains neighborhood friendly. We also extend our compliments to all those candidates who pledged to support our short-term rental ordinances in this election for their commitment to public service and for well-run campaigns.
